

Barraco / Quarta & Armando

Curated by Joanna Wong

July 09, 2018

Save

INTERIOR DESIGN - SHANGHAI, CHINA

Home

Projects

Products

Folders

Feed

Architects: Quarta & Armando

Search ArchDaily
Area: 85.0 m2

Year: 2017

Photographs: Dirk Weiblen

Manufacturers: HAY

Text description provided by the architects. Designed by architecture office Quarta & Armando (Q&A), Brazilian bar Barraco uses reclaimed materials, doors and windows from demolished buildings in Shanghai and as-found objects to stage the informal, messy and colorful atmosphere of tropical cities.

Save

Home

Projects

Products

Folders

Feed

Recommended Products

Search ArchDaily

Ceramic Tile - Quarzi 3D

Ceramica Rondine

QUOTE THIS PRODUCT

Wood Cladding - Linear Rib

Gustafs

Click-on Battens in Maitland Riverlink

Sculptform

The neutral tones of bare concrete, wood and white gravel on the floor and walls serve as a background for the controlled chaos of plants, lights and hanging swings on the ceiling, which projects itself from inside to outside and towards the street.

Save

Home

Projects

Products

Folders

Feed