

SHAPING ECODISTRICTS IN TOKYO SUBURBS

Jointly organized by

The University of Tokyo and the Politecnico di Torino, in collaboration with the Urban Planning Committee of Nishi-Tokyo City

the Workshop
PLANNING FOR THE GLOBAL URBAN AGENDA.
SHAPING ECODISTRICTS IN TOKYO SUBURBS

brought twenty graduate students to reflect on how to accommodate urban development while preserving productive farmlands and open spaces in metropolitan areas.

The on-site workshop (March 2018) was preceded by a series of webinars and ended with a public presentation of the proposals to the Mayor and the Planning Committee.

Within the framework of the Joint Project of Implementing the United Nations' New Urban Agenda.
Universities in action"

Politecnico di Torino and the University of Tokyo, supported by Politecnico di Torino and Compagnia di San Paolo, Promoted by the School of Planning and Design of the DIST Department of the Politecnico di Torino for the launch of the "Planning for the Global Urban Agenda" Curriculum of the MSc in Territorial, Urban, Environmental and Landscape Planning.

SEMINAR AND EXHIBITION

On May, 21st, h 17:30-18:30, room 4V prof. Cristiana Rossignolo, Chair of the School of Planning and Design, Rector's Advisor for the teaching Lab and Language Centre, Welcome and forewords

prof. Claudia Cassatella, Introduction. A co-design process between research, practice and teaching

proff. Akito Murayama, Akiko Iida
(The University of Tokyo)
Re-design of Sprawled Urban Areas in Tokyo Suburbs

students' workshop presentations

prof. Giancarlo Cotella, prof. Marco Santangelo, closing remarks

On May, 21st h. 18:30
Exhibition opening, Sala delle Colonne

At the presence of Tomoko Miyamoto City Planning Division, Department of Urban Development, Nishi-Tokyo City
on behalf of the Mayor

Opening hours to the public:

Monday, 21st from 18:30

Tuesday, 22nd: 10-13 and 15-19

Wednesday, 23rd: 10-13 and 15-19

Thursday, 24th: 10-13 and 15-19

Friday, 25th: 10-13 and 15-19

POLITECNICO
DI TORINO

UNIVERSITÀ
DEGLI STUDI
DI TORINO

東京大学
THE UNIVERSITY OF TOKYO